Nicholai SELEZNYOV, Nestorius and the Church of the East (Moscow: Put', 2005) 111 pp., with an English Summary.
ISBN 5-86748-032-1

This is the third booklet by Nicholai Seleznyov dedicated to the Church of the East. Two former were the following (both in Russian): Assyrian Church of the East (2001) [cf. annotation in XB 3 (2001) 506] and Christology of the Assyrian Church of the East. The Main Documents & Development of the Doctrine (2002) [cf. annotation in XB 4 (2002) 593]. The author continues to explore the history and the theology of the Church of the East trying to both introduce the lay people to the field and present a theological apology of the Eastern Christological tradition connected to the name of Nestorius. Trying to summarise his point, I dare to say that he managed to demonstrate, once more, that there is no reason to reject Nestorius if only one does not accept the Christology of the Fifth Ecumenical Council (that which was labeled by Charles Moeller as «néochalcédonisme»).
